CONCESSION STAND COVERAGE

Athletics

Too many kids have been taught that the goal of High School Sports is to achieve an ATHLETIC scholarship. Here is the truth-the goal of HS sports is to learn how to be a better person, better teammate, better communicator, & to enjoy being a teenage....something you can't get back.

Parent Expectations

- Follow the chain of command
- Support ALL players on the team
- Speak positively about coaches, even if you don't agree
- Encourage working through struggles
- Be a positive influence at games

PARENTS #1 - Accept the Struggle

Sports are all about Competition. It is that simple. You compete with your opponents, with your teammates, and with yourself.

Competition makes us all better. TEAM sports are about We > Me. The joy of sport is in the process, the fight, and the struggle. It is not a shiny trophy. That doesn't last. Don't fight against the struggle. Accept the Struggle.

PARENTS #2 - It is your Child's Struggle, not yours

Always remember this about sports. It is your CHILD'S: Experience, Struggle, Game, Challenge, Fight, Courage, and Tenacity

It is not yours. Parents: SUPPORT, CHEER, and ENCOURAGE, but do not cross the line.

PARENTS #3 - The Struggle is not the Enemy

The struggle is HOW your child becomes resilient & strong. Adversity makes us better. Do not be a snowplow parent = clears the path in front of their child so that they never face adversity. What happens when they hit the real world?

PARENTS - Come to Grips. For your child's sake. The struggle never ends. After HS, the struggles get more serious: Jobs/Careers, Relationships, Health Issues, Finances, and Loss.

Your child will be much better prepared for these struggles. And when you look back on this....you will know why. And you will be thankful for the struggle.
